

Think

Kendall wants to see if these ordered pairs make a function: $(1, 3)$ $(5, -4)$ $(3, -4)$, and $(-7, 2)$. He uses both a map and a graph to solve this problem, but his work shows two different answers. Critique Kendall's work and write a mathematical argument to show whether the ordered pairs make a function.

Talk Idea

Empty box for writing a talk idea.

Talk Idea

Empty box for writing a talk idea.

Talk Idea

Empty box for writing a talk idea.

We Understand

The connection between mapping and graphing for functions